11 Eligibility

- (1) Athletes must have achieved the qualifying standard for their age group and bodyweight category in an official event.
- (2) Participation must be approved by the Member Federation of the IWF in their own country in order to check the presence or absence of sanctions.
- (3) Lifting sessions will be conducted beginning with the oldest age groups first, and the youngest age groups last. Within each age group, it will begin with the lightest bodyweight category first and the heaviest last. Some bodyweight categories will be grouped together depending on the number of lifters in an age group and bodyweight category.
- (4) Participants will be selected in descending order from the results table of athletes who have achieved the qualifying standard for their age group and bodyweight category in an official event.

- (5) Japanese athletes must have participated in or entered into the 2020 All Japan Masters Weightlifting Championships.

12 Age Requirements

- (1) The minimum age to participate is 35 (born on or before 31 December 1986).
- (2) In line with the sport-specific rules, an athlete must compete in their designated age group, with their age determined as of 31 December 2021. For example, if a person is 39 during Games time but has turned 40 by 31 December 2021, that person would compete in the 40-44 age category.

13 Medal Ceremony

- (1) Gold, silver, and bronze medals will be awarded to the first to third-ranked athletes in the total in each event. However, no medals will be awarded to athletes who do not achieve the qualifying standard for their age group and bodyweight category. Medals will be given for the World Masters Games and also for the IWF Masters World Championship.
- (2) The medals ceremony will be held for each weightlifting session after the completion of the session.
- (3) An award will be given to the best lifter in each group, and also for the best lifters of the championship -- i.e. Grand Master men and Grand Master women.
- (4) The IWF Masters will run a National Team Competition, and awards will be given for the best 4 men's teams and the best 4 women's teams.
